

GENERAL INFORMATION

Library System

South Central Library System

Describe demographic, economic, and other facts about your system that influenced the development of this and other system plans.

The South Central Library System is composed of Adams, Columbia, Dane, Green, Portage, Sauk and Wood Counties. These counties include more than 800,000 people, with the majority residing in Dane County. System population density ranges from sparse rural to dense urban. Municipalities vary greatly in size, from villages with populations in the hundreds to the city of Madison, which includes about 28% of the entire population of the system.

Demographics in the system area continue to change. There is growing ethnic diversity, especially in urban areas. There is an aging population, especially in rural areas. There is growing poverty, in both the rural and urban areas. Recognizing these changes, the SCLS Strategic Plan, adopted in 2006, calls for the system community to "seek to understand the changing nature of the public we serve, especially with regard to such factors as age, generation, economic status, and changing world view." This objective is reflected in some of the activities described in this plan.

There are strong municipal public libraries, many of which have existed for a century or more, in all of our member counties. The South Central area also contains several hundred other libraries of all types, the largest being the libraries on the campus of the University of Wisconsin-Madison. This plan includes activities designed to increase our planning with these multitype libraries and to develop richer partnerships between SCLS and the multitype libraries, and among all libraries in SCLS.

All residents of the SCLS area have access to good library service. Dane County has offered a high level of public library service since the mid-1960s. Many communities in Sauk, Green and Columbia Counties continue to strengthen their libraries. Adams and Portage County have consolidated county library services, except for the independent library in the village of Amherst in Portage County and the independent library in the Town of Rome in Adams County. Wood County has several strong medium-sized public libraries and a tradition of interlibrary cooperation within the county.

Describe significant needs and problems that influenced the development of this and other system plans.

As it did for its 2012 budget, SCLS reviewed and revised its 2013 budget to accommodate its continuing loss of revenue. Low interest rates have reduced SCLS returns since 2008. The loss of $228,593 in state aid is also a large factor. In 2012 and continuing into 2013, revenue from SCLS delivery service has fallen as customers have reduced delivery from 5 days to 4 days per week. SCLS has been able to reduce costs in many administrative areas that do not affect its members greatly but that will change for 2013 and beyond. Cuts will be felt by members. SCLS reduced its contract payments to its resource library by 10%. Net lender payments were reduced. Experimental services for libraries was cut by 80%. At the same time, costs are increasing for fuel, broadband, and insurance which affects members' fees. SCLS will be working with its members to implement a strategy for 2014 and beyond to adjust to these economic impacts. Arpin Public Library has signed agreements to join the SCLS ILS, LINKcat, and to receive technology services in 2013. Portage County Public Library is interested in joining LINKcat in 2013.

Describe the planning environment and process under which this and other system plans were developed. (List additional system planning documents with the period covered and attach any planning documents which have not previously been provided to the division.)

SCLS seeks input from member libraries, both formally and informally, during planning processes and throughout the year. Each month, we have an Administrative Council (AC) meeting where representatives of all the SCLS libraries come together to discuss issues brought forth by SCLS and by the member libraries. The representatives have two-year terms, with 1/2 of the body re-elected each year. The AC reviews system services and activities throughout the year, and reviews the entire annual system plan and budget each Fall before it is submitted to DLT. A special meeting of the AC, called the All-Directors Meeting, brings together all of the directors of public libraries in SCLS to vote on fees for the coming year. The budget developed by SCLS is based on these fees, and all libraries have the opportunity to review the plan and budget prior to the AC meeting.

There are three committees that report to the AC:

1. Delivery Committee (DC)
2. ILS Committee (IC)
3. Technology Committee (TC).

All are similarly structured to the AC, with libraries represented by individuals elected to the committee. These committees and the AC may form workgroups as appropriate to work on tasks. There are three standing subcommittees that report to the IC:

GENERAL INFORMATION (cont'd.)

1. Collection Maintenance Subcommittee
2. Circulation Services Subcommittee
3. PAC Subcommittee

SCLS works to develop multi-type cooperation and partnerships throughout the system. SCLS funds a multitype coordinator to develop and manage our multi-type activities. She acts as the official representative for the multi-type libraries at committee meetings.

SCLS staff maintain constant contact with member libraries on an individual basis as well as through the groups described above. Member libraries are encouraged to offer feedback on programs and individual staff performance through email lists and web forms. SCLS staff also ask for more formal feedback on various topics. Our more formal communications with our members include an online bi-weekly newsletter, a weekly email notice, and the wide dissemination of information of all sorts pertinent to system operations through email and our website, which includes blogs and wikis. Every member library is visited annually by a SCLS staff member to review the service they receive from the system.

The final element in our planning process is our System Board. This board meets monthly and has standing subcommittees for Budget and Finance, Personnel, Bylaws, Facilities, and Advocacy. The Board receives and reviews all the completed planning data from members and staff, and has the final authority over all system policies and documents that are submitted to DLT.

Central to our planning environment is our mission statement and staff principles, our 100-year plan, and our system principles. While these various documents were created many years ago, they are reviewed annually, and do change as library services evolve. In a time of rapid technological and social change, we cannot expect to stay in one place. SCLS will continue to evolve and grow and become what we need to be to fulfill our mission of helping our member libraries provide the best possible service to their public.
